BORAH SEES DANGER IN LEAGUE PLAN WILSON ADVOCATES

Quotes the President's Speech in Proof of Pact Obligation

ARMED FORCE NEEDED TO ENFORCE LEAGUE

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 13.—President Wilson in a speech at the peace conference, already subject of widely published controversy between him and Senator Spencer of Missouri, declared that "if any covenants of this settlement are NOT observed the United States will send her armies and navies to see that they are observed," Senator Borah of Idaho, asserted in an address here tonight.

"The controversy between Senator Spencer and the president has been interesting," said Senator Borah, "because it shows how this league looks when you begin to view it in its practical workings.

"When you get down to the actual workings of the league it seems harsh and autocratic and altogether objectionable.

The Use of Armed Force

"There are two things stated in the speech President Wilson put out as authoritative which sustain every charge we have ever made against this gigantic autocracy based on force. The first statement read as follows: 'And back of that lies the fundamental and important fact that when the decisions are made the allied and associated powers guarantee to maintain them.' How are you going to maintain them except by sending the army and navy across the sea? We have first the solemn guarantee of the allied and associated powers to maintain all decisions and all boundaries. As to how we are going to do this is answered by the president himself in another place in the same speech in which he says:

"'If any covenants of this settlement are not observed the United States will send her armies and navies to see that they are observed * * * * * * we must not close our eyes to the fact that in the last analysis the military and naval strength of the great power will be the final guarantee of peace of the world.'

The President's Answer

"When the president was before the foreign relations committee Senator Knox asked this question: 'Suppose that it is perfectly obvious that there is an external aggression against some power and suppose it is perfectly obvious and accepted that it cannot be repelled except by force of arms, would we be under any legal obligation to participate?' The president replied to this, 'No sir, but we would be under an absolutely compelling moral obligation.'

"I take it that it will not make very much difference to the American people whether you call it a legal obligation or a moral obligation, if it is an obligation absolutely compelling and from the execution of which there is no escape.

"The incredible thing about this whole problem is that such a scheme should have ever been seriously submitted to a people who have been trained to democracy and devoted to the principles of popular government."

SHIPPING LINES MAY REDUCE RATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Chairman Benson of the shipping board announced tonight that American and foreign shipping lines had agreed to go the limit in reducing freight charges to meet the competition of the French line which has refused to enter a conference with lines of other nations for stabilizing rates.

"War to the knife,' will result the chairman said unless the French line plays fairly with the conference and joins in maintaining rates on the Atlantic. Action was taken on unanimous decision of the conference to break rates, the chairman explained.

CLEVELAND WILD IN CELEBRATING BASE BALL VICTORY

Fifty Thousand People Join In Demonstration for Pennant Winners

GENEROUS DIVISION MADE OF RECEIPTS

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 13.—Cleveland tonight paid tribute to its world champion baseball team in a public demonstration at Wade Park attended by approximately 50,000 persons. So great was the enthusiasm that the crowd finally became uncontrollable and broke thru ropes marking off the stage where city officials and the Cleveland American League baseball players sat, smashed chirs, pushed several persons into a small lake and vocally and physically expressed its joy over the winners of the world's series.

Special details of police were powerless and not until long after the lights had been put out and the ball players had left did the celebration end.

A Big Demonstration.

Thousands were unable to get near the scene of the demonstration. Down in a little hollow in the park the stage where seats were reserved for Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald was placed the players and others who took part in the program were also seated with the mayor. Great searchlights played down upon the stage keeping the ball players in the spotlight, fire works were set off, bands played and automobiles for blocks around kept up a continual horn honking. Each player as he was introduced got a wild demonstration, the roar of enthusiasm being almost continuous. When the last speech had been made the mayor signalled that the program was over, but the crowd refused to leave. Instead, it rushed forward thru the ropes and hundreds climbed on the stage to shake hands with the athletes. Babies were passed over shoulders to be kissed, hats were smashed and chairs shoved aside, but while many persons were somewhat bruised and battered in the rush there were no reports of serious injuries.

Squads of police ranged thru the mass of people trying to get it to break up, but without avail. Finally, the ball players were slipped out the back of the stage, the lights were turned out and lusty lunged men with megaphones begged everyone to go home.

It was midnight before the park had been cleared.

A Share For Aides.

The Cleveland players this afternoon voted to give Walter Mails and Joe Sewell, recruits, who joined the club late in the season, full shares in the split of the world series receipts. One thousand dollars each also was given to Secretary Walter McNichols of the Cleveland Club, Scout Jack McAlister; Trainer Percy Smallwood; Groundkeeper Frank Van Dellen and Miss Edna Jamieson, chief clerk of the club. Mrs. Ray Chapman, widow of the player killed by a ball thrown by Pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees already had been voted a full share. Today's action of the players reduced the shore of each to $3,986.33.

CHARGES MADE MARINES KILLED HAITIAN NATIVES

Major General Wrote of Shocking Details Heard in Trial

NO PUBLIC REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13—Disclosure that a summary investigation of alleged "practically indiscriminate killing" of Hatian natives by United States Marines was ordered more than a year ago by Major General Barnett, then commandant of the marine corps, was made today in publication of a report by General Barnett on operations in Haiti during American occupation.

Shocked at Details.

Evidence at the trials of two marine privates for the killing of natives, "shocked me beyond expression" General Barnett said in a letter September 27 to Col. John Russel, commanding in Haiti ordering an immediate investigation with the approval of Secretary Daniels. It was at once carried out by Colonel Russell who supported a report to the navy department March 20, 1920, but, General Barnett said, the report had not been turned over to marine corps headquarters up to last June when he was succeeded as commandant of the corps by Major General John A. Lejeune.

General Barnett's report contains no indicationof the result of the investigation as it covers operations in Haiti only up to the time he was relieved as commandant.

In his letter to Colonel Russell ordering the investigation General Barnett declared that testimony at the trials of the two marine privates as well as arguments presented by counsel for the defense, Lieutenant F. L. Speaer showed me that practically indiscriminate killing of natives has gone on for some time."

Carried Out Order.

Colonel Russell wrote General Barnett last October that he had "taken the matter up most seriously" and had issued confidential orders to his forces in line with General Barnett's letter. He said that he also had issued a new proclamation to the Haitian people the text of which was not given in General Barnett's report. The general replied he had ordered members of the corps then in the United States who had previously served in Haiti examined and that he would order the return to Haiti of "any such people as seem necessary."

The navy department made public October 5 a special report prepared by General Lejeune now commandant of the corps on the work of the marines in Haiti during his term of office. It declared that "peace and tranqu lity prevailed in the island which General Lejeune had just inspected and that the marines had won the gratiude of all lawab ding natives for their work in suppressing the bandits. No mention was made of the incidents disclosed in General Barnett's report or of the fact that the conduct of the marines had been under investigation.

RESERVE BOARD HEAD DENIES CHARGES MADE BY FARMERS

Not to Blame for Declines in Grain Prices

FORGAN SAYS BOARD SAVED ESSENTIALS

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Charges of farmers organizations that the fedral reserve board is responsible for declining commodity prices in the grain and cotton markets were answered today by James B. Forgan, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Chicago and president of the advisory council of the federal reserve board.

The reserve board is not to blame for the decline in wheat prices or for the difficulty of farmers in obtaining loans, the banker said.

"The strained condition of the money market may make it difficult for the farmer to obtain funds from his local bank, but the reserve board is not responsible for fundamental economic conditions.

"The curtailment policy of the board has conserved available credit for the essential industries —and the production of grain and livestock is regarded as highly essential.'

COX IS WORRIED ABOUT LEAGUE FACTS AND PUBLIC

Says Conspiracy Prevents Papers Printing League Details

ASSAILS HARDING FOR INCONSISTENCY

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 13—Attack on the league of nations policy of Senator Harding, his republican opponent and of former President Taft was continued today by Governor Cox of Ohio in another strenuous day's campaiguing in Indiana. That there was a "conspiracy to deceive the American jury by depriving it of the facts in this great case," through failure to print the league covenant in "reactionary" papers and in the republican national campaign book also was stressed by the democratic presidential candidate.

Visited Six Cities.

Six large Indiana cities were visited today by Governor Cox in variation of recent campaigning. He addressed crowds aggregating many thousands at Delphi, Logansport, Peru, Wabash, Huntington and here where he closed with a large street meeting tonight.

All the cities visited today are county seats and the governor was able to deliver lengthy addresses devoted principally to his arguments for the league of nations. He made no rear platform talks. At most of the cities today the governor spoke from specially built stands to throngs on court house squares occupying virtually all of the available lawn and street space for almost a block's length.

Attacks Taft

Regarding the stand of Senator Harding and Judge Taft on the league Governor Cox repeated charges that the senator was vacillating and declared that the Republican candidate's recent Marion statement was his eleventh change of position. "Poor old Judge Taft," the governor continued, "tries to apologize for him (Senator Harding) and tries to defend him, but he moves so fast that Taft can't keep up with him."

Governor Cox reiterated that the great cause of the league of nations is about ready for the jury and he stressed the declaration that league supporters should vote for him and opponents for Senator Harding.

"If I should be elected," he added, "the plain inference will be that the American people want the league. If Harding should be elected the inference would be just the reverse. Yet Judge Taft says that the way to assure our going into the league is to vote for the man is against it."

CHALLENGE ISSUED TO DEBATE LEAGUE

New who occupies a similar position in the Republican organization offering to cancel any speaking engagements heretofore made for Governor Cox in order to bring the two candidates together.

HARDING INVADES ENEMY'S COUNTRY BY TRIP SOUTH

Republican Nominee Given Cordial Welcome in Tennessee

SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL PROTECT ALL

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—To the voters of the Democratic south, Senator Harding tonight addressed an appeal for earnest consideration of Republican principles and gave a promise that Republican success in the election would mean "the same policy of helpful protection to all American production, north or south."

In a speech at the auditorium here, the Republican presidential nominee suggested diversified politics as the 'thing required to remove the last trace of sectional misunderstanding, and said that his party had no policy for one section that it did not preach for all sections alike.

The Democratic party, he attacked for its conduct of affairs both at home and abroad. President Wilson, he said, repeatedly had dictated to congress even at the expense of violating pledges of his own party platform and finally had attempted to force acceptance of the league of nations covenant by depriving the senate of its constitutional powers.

On Historic Ground

Arriving here early in the forenoon the candidate spent virtually the whole day in an automobile tour of the section about Chattanooga made famous by the Civil War battles. An ambiguity in the federal construction he said in his speech, had been responsible for the war and voiced a hope that no similar catastrophe would be courted by accepting a league covenant "containing a score of ambiguities."

"Looking back now in the concord of union," he said, "we note the difference in patriotic love of country, north or south; rather a misunderstanding as to the meaning of it. It little matters now about grievances about early difficulties, about the embittered disappointments. The supreme fact is that we have rebuilded, that we are reunited.

"All that North and South ever needed was understanding with one another. We have that understanding now.

The New Understanding

"We are not wholly of one mind in our party devotion but it will be a grand day for America when our partisan difficulties are buried in the concord of new understanding. If Republican policies are good for the north, they deserve the earnest consideration of the south. Highways of steel, improvd roads and avenues of exchanging commerce have intersected the old Mason and Dixon line until it is only a historical memory. Your commerce is American commerce. Your industry is American industry. Your production is American production. Your farm products and our farm products are essential to American life. We are interdependent and the Republican party proclaims the same doctrine of agriculaural good fortune in the south that it does in the north. It preaches the same policy of finance north and south. It preaches the same policy of a helpful protection to all American production north or south.

Protection for All

"We believe in protecting cotton and cotton seed products of the south and wheat and wool in the north. We believe in protection for peanuts south and potatoes north. We believe in southern factories and northern factories selling to America first and we acclaim an industrial south as one of the essentials to the ideal Republic.

"I want the self-reliant America, self-reliant agriculturally, self-reliant politically. That is why I insist that we shall never accept a league of nations with the material heart of a military alliance, to rule the world by force of arms. North and south fought to withdraw from the union. The north thought the union to be indissoluble. Then came the conflict over an ambiguity in the constitution. There are a score of ambiguities in the president's covenant and he would not tolerate their clarification by reservations.

"I have a deep and abiding faith in American institutions and in the fundamental principles upon which they rest. The people by their constitution have carefully enumerated the powers of their governmental agents. Neither agent is superior to the other and neither owes any degree of responsibility to the other. For either to invade the field of action delegated to the other is to usurp the authority of the other. During the life of the present administration this condition which the constitution inhibits, has arisen again and again. Congress, while under Democratic control was, with rare exception, a mere echo of the executive. He did not inform them from time to time respecting the state of the union as the constitution contemplates. He told them what to do."

Someone suggests that Mr. Edison instead of seeking to perfect an instrument for communication with people in the other world, might to greater advantage work for the betterments on some of his own inventions. The Wizard has given some wonderful things to his countrymen but certainly has not exhausted the field of research in this world.

Charles A. Rose is the Republican candidate for coroner. Mr. Rose has held the office for the past four years and has faithfully met requirements. There are often some unpleasant duties in connection with the coroner's work and Mr. Rose has met conditions as he has found them, and with success has sought at all times to administer the affairs of his office in accordance with the law.

A Democratic document which is being sent out by the state committee refers to the Chicago Tribune as the staunchest Republican paper in the U. S. A study of the Tribune's course in the past few years will not produce testimony to substantiate this statement about "the world's greatest newspaper." However, there is no question about the Tribune using its influence for Harding and Coolidge, for that paper is vigorous in its denunciation of the Wilson regime.

RUNNING BY PROXY

In an endeavor to rid himself of the incubus of Wilsonism, Mr. Cox declared recently that "Wilson is not running this year." True, but Wilson's party is running a candidate for the presidency on a platform that endorses Wilsonism. There is only one way the country can possibly manifest its disapproval of Wilsonism and that is by voting against the candidate who is the exponent of Wilsonism. A victory for Cox is a victory for Wilsonism.

THE COUNTRY'S HONOR

As if one depended upon the other, Mr. Wilson asks, "Do you want your country's honor vindicated and the treaty of Versailles ratified?" National honor and the Versailles treaty are synonymous in the mind of the occupant of the White House, but to the minds of a huge majority of his fellow countrymen one is the antithesis of the other.

According to Mr. Wilson the nation's honor is "vindicated" only by the surrender of the Monroe doctrine, by signing an agreement to protect the boundaries of about 40 other countries, by yielding to a foreign council the right to regulate our armaments, by acquainting everyone of those 40 nations with the trade secrets of every American industry capable of turning out munitions, by accepting a mandate over Armenia, by abstaining from war no matter how flagrantly American rights may be infringed, by endorsing the rape of Shantung by Japan, and by agreement to the multitude of other treaty provisions under which England and France emerge from the war with their national wealth hugely increased.

LEARNING FROM EXPERIENCE

The most costly mistakes of the Democratic administration have been due to their unwillingness to learn from the experience of others. Take our airplane building as an example. With three years of war experience, the British and the French had developed efficient fighting planes. When the United States entered the war, our allies offered to send over some of their best planes and some of their most competent engineers and mechanics, so that we could copy them and at once begin production in large volume. Had we taken advantage of their experience, there is not the slightest doubt that the war would have been ended much sooner and that hundreds of thousands of lives would have been saved.

But it is not the way of the Democrats to profit from the experience of others. Having "kept us out of war" they thought their knowledge of war-making weapons and machinery was far superior to that of our allies, who had been in the game three years. The result was the waste of some six or eight hundred millions of dollars, the criminal loss of some hundreds of thousands of lives—and no fighting airplanes. We never got a fighting plane to the front.

That is the Democratic way. It was their method of fighting the war. It was the way of fixing prices of farm products. The history of nations for three thousand years past shows that every effort of government to fix the prices of farm products has resulted in worse than failure. Instead of making cheaper food, such efforts in the end make dearer food; they intensify the evils from which it is sought to escape.

Senator Harding, the Republican candidate, has inspired the confidence of both farmers and consumers because his speeches show that he is a student of history and economics, and that he will be guided by the sound experience of the past.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

Years and Wisdom.

I've lived about a hundred years, and as I lived I looked around; and in the course of time, my dears, some chunks of wisdom I have found. I've found that kindness always pays; it smoothes the path we have to tread, and takes much anguish from our days, and lulls us when we go to bed. Speak kindly of the man next door; he'll hear the unkind things you've said, and they may make his spirit sore, so he will come and punch your head. Speak kindly of the grocer's clerk, who stung you when you bought some rice; he's wearied by his grinding work, and so got balled up on the price. Speak kindly of all men who pass; they need kind words to make them glad; they're trying hard to cut their grass, and hands are tired and hearts are sad. My life has been a joyride great, because I hate no man on earth, and in the cheapest kind of skate I try to find some signs of worth. I have about a million friends, who smile upon me when we meet and when my journey ends, my funeral will be a treat. The boys will boost me on that day, not for the silly rhymes I grind, not for my wreath of fragrant hay, but for the fact I was kind.

Peter A. Waller, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, in Illinois, will make a public address at the court house Friday night. You are invited to hear Mr. Waller discuss the issues of the campaign.

Tuesday night at Nichols park Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brinkman and little son camped in Nichols park and yesterday morning proceeded on their way to that mecca of so many tourists, Los Angles, Cal. They were especially well prepared for traveling, having erected on the chassis of a Ford car a miniature house, with water tank underneath and most of the portable conveniences of such a structure and they remarked if they were unable to find a house in the metropolis of southern California, they would be able to get along all right any way. They were very pleasant, genial people.

PAPER MAKERS STILL OVERSOLD

M. H. Grassly Now With Large Eastern Concern — Talks About Market Conditions.

M. H. Grassly is in the city visiting his mother, Mrs. A. F. Grassly. Mr. Grassly, who is a graduate of Illinois College, lived in this city until he entered business life. For a number of years he has been connected with the Strathmore Paper Co., of Springfield, Mass. This company operates a number of mills in the east and because of his connection there and travels thru various states, Mr. Grassly is quite well posted on the paper market.

Mr. Grassly says that conditions are becoming more normal in the paper trade but not much relief is in sight with reference to newsprint. A number of the smaler mills which formerly manufactured newsprint changed during the last year or two into other lines of paper making and will probably not go back to the newsprint business. Mr. Grassly believes that, generally speaking lower price levels are in prospect and he referred to the statement that thousands of employes are being laid off by the factories.

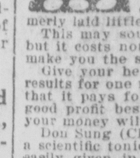
419 Eggs From 20 Hens In 30 Days

Mr. Dougherty Got This Result in October. Plan is Easily Tried.

"I tried Don Sung and the results were far past any expectations. I got 419 eggs in 30 days from 20 hens while moulting. I think this is wonderful, as they hardly laid at all before."—Frank Dougherty, 5940 E. 11th St., Indianapolis.



Mr. Dougherty bought $1 worth of Don Sung in October and wrote this letter in November. Figure his profit on 35 dozen eggs from hens that formerly laid little or nothing.

This may sound too good to be true, but it costs nothing to find out. We'll make you the same offer we made him.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

You can obtain Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

OLD WORLD CARAVAN ROUTE TO SIBERIA

Only Way of Entering Russia From the Far East—Automobiles Are Used in Transportation Across Desert.

London—An old-world caravan, route, north from Peking, China, over mountains, past the ancient wall of China, across the 700-mile desert of Gobi and thru the foothills of the eastern Altai Mountains or down the Selenga river to Verkhne-Udinsk is the only comparatively free way into Siberia and Russia from the Far East. It is the route taken by an Associated Press correspondent in a recent trip across Russia.

Altho involving great difficulties in travel, the cross-country is to be preferred to the Trans-Siberian railway zone thru northeastern Manchuria, for there factional strife between Russian forces—Cossacks, peasant revolutionists, free-booters and bandit chiefs—has kept the country in a state of constant unrest since the comparative orderly state of affairs which ended with Admiral Kolchak's complete downfall during the fall of 1919.

From Peking the traveller may go by train to Kalgan, 100 miles northwest of the Chinese capital. Kalgan is the great trade mart of North China. There the camel caravans from Urg, across the Great Gobi desert, discharge their loads of wool and furs from the north, and reload with tea for the nomadic desert tribes of Mongolia and for Siberia. Before the decline of trade with Russia, camel caravans numbering thousands in each left Kalgan weekly for the month trip across the desert. Caravans numbering several hundreds of camels in each continue to make the trip. In crossing the desert the traveller passes several of these slowly moving caravans.

But twentieth century commercial progress and American business methods have entered into competition with the camel carriers across the desert. In 1917 an American business man in Kalgan drove a small American automobile up the steep Kalgan pass to the level of the Mongolian plateau across the Gobi desert, and into the sacred Buddhist city of Urga. shortly afterward regular communication by automobile was established across the desert.

Today automobiles owned by business establishments and by the Chinese government make the trip from Kalgan to the Mongolian capital in from three to five days, following the line of telegraph poles across the desert. Three small inns and numerous gasoline stations have been established along the route, and the "Living God" of Urga, highest of the Buddhist priests of Mongolia, is himself the proud owner of an American motor car.

From Urga the route to Siberia is over the low ranges of the Kentei mountains. The usual method of travel is by the Russian conveyance known as a "tarantass" a vehicle not unlike the old American stage coach. The country between Urga and Kiakhta is infested by native bandits and with Chinese brigands who have deserted from the Chinese and cossack armies and taken to the free life of the hills.

Kiakhta and Troitzkosvsk on the Siberian side of the boundary, with the Chinese city of Mi-masen, form the once prosperous trade center of southern Siberia. In the days of great commercial activity between China and Siberia "tea millionaires" men who made fortunes from one successful caravan trip from the south, were as numerous as the war millionaires of today. The glory of Kiakhta, however, like that of the caravan owners of former days has passed during years of revolution and civil war in Siberia and life in the border city is as in the other parts of Siberia, a daily struggle for the fundamental necessities of life, food and clothing.

A day's trip down the swift-flowing Selenga river takes the traveller to Verkhne-Udinsk, most westerly headquarters of American troops of the recent Siberian expedition, and where travel over the Trans-Siberian railway into Russia proper again is possible.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses -honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Every Drop of Your Blood Should Be Absolutely Pure

You can not overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body you can readily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications.

Any slight disorder or impurities is a source of danger as every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are Rheumatism, with its torturing pain; Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas and other disfiguring skin diseases; general debility, which makes the strongest men helpless, and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood.

You can in a large measure avoid liability to disease by the use of S.S.S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S.S. cleanses the blood thoroughly. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

To the Seven Million Housewives Who Are Now Using Mazola

MAZOLA can be used for more different purposes and at less cost than almost any other food.

It contains no water, as do butter and lard—remains always sweet and palatable, and does not absorb odors or flavors. So the same lot of Mazola can be used over and over again—a wonderful saving in any household. If you want to use it for shortening—even after frying fish or onions—you have only to strain it. It never smokes up your kitchen.

Mazola makes lighter and better cake and tastier fried foods than animal fats. And so light and wholesome they agree with even the most delicate children.

Thousands of families, leading hotels, clubs and railroad dining cars use Mazola in preference to olive oil for salads. It costs much less than half as much, and is pure, rich and wholesome.

Daily Market Report

TRADERS GOVERNED BY MONEY MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Railroad and industrial stocks moved in opposite directions again today, transportation, especially the speculative variety denoting further accumulation, while industrials and associated specialties were variable or hesitant.

Sentiment among professional traders was once more governed by the local money market. Call loans opened at 8 per cent, advanced to 9 at mid-day and mounted to 10, the maximum rate for several weeks, just before the close.

This sensitive condition was attributed to the withdrawal of $8,000,000 of government deposits and final preparations for Friday's payment of the Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000.

Coppers yielded again on reports that the refined metal is being offered for immediate delivery 16⅝c.

Sales amounted to 525,000 shares.

Some of the industrial bonds including liberties were steady to firm the international division evincing no marked trend. Total sales (par value) $17,200,000.

Old United States bonds unchanged on call.

STRENGTH DEVELOPED IN WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today largely as a result of farmers' agitation for higher prices and owing to word of serious adverse crop conditions in India. The close was nervous, 1⅛c to 2⅜c net higher, with December $2.09½ to $2.10¼ and March $2.05¾ to $2.06.

At first the wheat market had a downward tendency ascribed to the decline of values yesterday in the northwest while the board of trade here was closed. Soon, however, renewal of bullish sentiment took a strong hold on many traders and thruout the remainder of the session sellers were at ad sadvantage. Estimates mean while were current that domestic producers were holding between 60 and 70 per cent of their wheat. Advices from India said the wheat crop of the Punjaub district had been damaged and that other districts needed rain.

Corn and oats averaged higher with wheat. Country offerings were light.

Provisions were governed more or less by the action of grain. Exports sales of lard counted as a bullish influence.

GOSSIP OVER DEAD MULE CAUSES $10,000 SUIT

The death several months ago of the highly prized mule of John Schillinger, who resides at Granite City, coupled with the consistent gossip of the neighborhood as to the death of the animal, led to a $10,000 suit to be filed in the Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville, as related in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Slanderous remarks were alleged to have been made by C. Harnish, of Cranite City, the defendant, about the reputation of Andrew Schillinger, a brother of the owner of the mule.

Andrew Schillinger in his petition alleged that the defendant, after much gossip about the death of the mule in the neighborhood, said that Andrew Schillinger had poisoned the mule.

When Andrew Schillinger received the inforamtion of the alleged remarks of Marnish he immediately conferred with a yawyer and the suit resulted.

In the petition of the plaintiff, Andrew Schillinger states that his brother said the prized mule, without any reasonable cause or explanation, turned his hoof to the sky and died.

MAY MOVE WHITE HALL EXPRESS OFFICE

Plan to Change Location of American Railway Express Office to up Town Favored by Many—White Hall News of Interest.

White Hall, Oct. 13.—A petition to secure the location of the office of the American Railway Express Co., up town was circulated Saturday, receiving almost the unanimous support of the business men. This was followed by a counter petition this week to retain the business at the two depots as at present, and the counter petition received just as strong support as the original petition as Agent W. P. Neutzman explained the situation to the business people. The proposed new deal is said to have the backing of M. J. Black. Should it be carried out the commissions that at present go to Mr. Neutzman in connection with his duties as agent for the C. & A. railroad would be suspended, leaving Neutzman a meagre salary as railroad agent, the present basis of pay being regulated in connection with the express business. There is a strong demand for an uptwn express and telegraph ofvce at White Hall, but a realization of these things is yet a matter of the future.

Harry Bermis, wanted in connection with a shooting Sunday evening is still at large, and there probably will be no tremendous demand for his apprehension so long as he gives White Hall a wide berth. He and one Otis Painter had met Fred Hyle on his way to work at the sewer pipe works about six o'clock, and an argument arose over labor difficulties. It is said that some blows passed between Painter and Hyle whereupon Bermis drew a 22 revolver and fired at Hyle, the ball grazing Hyle's breast and penetrated the left shoulder. Bermis is said by the police to have been drinking at the time. Hyle's wound, while not necessarily serious, could not be given proper attention without going on the operating table to have the ball removed, and it was decided to leave the ball in the shoulder. The affair occurred on Railroad street near the Varble business corner.

Russel Hutchens, an employe of the industrial railway, is suffering with a mashed foot as a result of it being run over by a motor car in the yards of the clay mines, east of town.

A copy of the Havana (Cuba) Post of the 5th inst. records the arrival of a White Hall man as follows: "John R. Stanton of Chicago, president of the Stanton & Van Vliet Publishing Co., was a business arrival yesterday on the Governor Cobb. He registered at the Plaza."

M. Egan has completed the rebuilding of one of the kilns at the drain tile works, and his figures show that the structure contains sufficient brick to make quite a building. The drain tile kilns are only thirty feet in diameter, yet they contain 68,000 brick. This is small in comparison with the 42-foot sewer pipe kilns, the largest structures of the kind in the world. The crown alone contains 20,000 brick, the entire structure running over a quarter of a million brick. However, the sewer pipe kilns are built of a smaller size brick than are the drain tile kilns.

LEARNING HOW TO CHOOSE LAYING HENS

County Agent G. B. Kendall gave a demonstration of poultry culling at the home of William White, northwest of Murrayville Wednesday afternoon. There were 33 women and 7 men in the interested audience. Over 1200 White Leghorn and Rhode Island Reds were culled.

The purpose of this demonstration and others which Mr. Kendall has planned is to show poultry raisers how to eliminate the hens that are not as well adapted for laying. In selecting fowls to keep special attention is paid to the thinness of the pelvic bones, the pelvic capacity and the abdominal capacity.

Another demonstration will be given Friday in Waverly at 2 o'clock.

STATE RED CROSS WORKERS CONFERRED

Four Jacksonville Men Attended State Meeting in Springfield—Prepare for Annual Roll Call in November.

A large gathering of Red Cross workers from all parts of Illinois was held at the parish house of the Episcopal church in Springfield Wednesday. Morgan county chapter representatives who attended were T. M. Tomlinson, county chairman; W. E. Collins, home service section; H. J. Rodgers, member exeeutive committee, and Earl Spink who will have charge of the annual roll call campaign from Nov. 11 to Nov. 25.

About 300 workers attended the conference, which was of a very interesting character. It had been called by Walter Davidson, acting division manager, and he made one of the addresses. C. H. Van Tuyl told something of the peace time program of the Junior Red Cross and W. E. Longfellow, of the life saving department of the Red Cross at Washington, D. C., explained the work of that department.

Special interest attached to the address of Dr. Livingston Ferrand, chairman of the executive committee of Washington, D. C., his theme being "Continuation of the Red Cross Work in Peace Times."

A general statement with reference to the roll call scheduled for Nov. 11 to 25th was made by M. S. McMullens of Chicago. As indicated, Earl M. Spink will be in charge of the annual roll call in this county. Those who are familiar with Red Cross work know that it by no means ceased with the close of the war. In European countries there are 11,000,000 orphans as a war result and the care given to some of these orphans makes only one department of Red Cross work. The largest expenditure made for relief work are in the United States.

It used to be the case that the Red Cross was supported by large contributions from a few persons, but those directing the work of teh organization found that much better results come from having the Red Cross sustained by small contributions from a large number. The membership campaigns bring a great deal of desirable publicity and let the people know what the great philanthropic organization is doing.

Peter A. Waller, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, in Illinois, will make a public address at the court house Friday night. You are invited to hear Mr. Waller discuss the issues of the campaign.

EBENEZER CHURCH IN GET TOGETHER MEETING

Members of Ebenezer church held a get together meeting at the church Wednesday night. The event was planned as a reception to the new pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Bracewell and his wife. The hours together gave an opportunity for the people to become acquainted with their pastor and for conference about some of the work of the year.

James Martin presided and the following made responses:

John Hadden in behalf of the church and Sunday school; Mrs. O. G. Dinwiddie for the Woman's Foreign Missionary society; Miss Luella Blackburn for the Ladies' Aid society and William Hadden on behalf of the Epworth League.

Then Rev. Mr. Bracewell made remarks which were greatly appreciated. Abundant refreshments were served and the evening was spent in a very enjoyable way.
